

BEAUTY SPOT ' AGAIN —

Like a butterfly emerging from an ugly cocoon, the Mishicot River blossomed out Saturday and became (at least for that part of it within the village) one of the clearest rivers with the cleanest bottom in the state. Butch Kronforst, a Coast Guardsman home on leave, donned waders and in one afternoon piled about three truckloads of litter on the banks. A village truck hauled the material to the dump. The Manitowoc Canoe Club which had scheduled Saturday afternoon to do the job, found the work done when they arrived at 1 p.m. Fishermen are now asked to cooperate in keeping the stream clean. A large number of bottles and beer cans were reported thrown there by fishermen during the summer. Bottom photo, taken a week ago, contrasts with top photo shot Saturday. (Photos by Area Editor)
